

Harriet Tubman Unit For Special Education

Preview

By Christa
Joy

Black History Month

HARRIET TUBMAN

By Christa Joy
Special Needs for Special Kids

There were 11 people in her family, and they all lived in a house with only 1 room.

Harriet Tubman was truly a hero.

Living as a slave was very difficult.

When Harriet was 13, she was injured which caused her to be dizzy and pass out for the rest of her life.

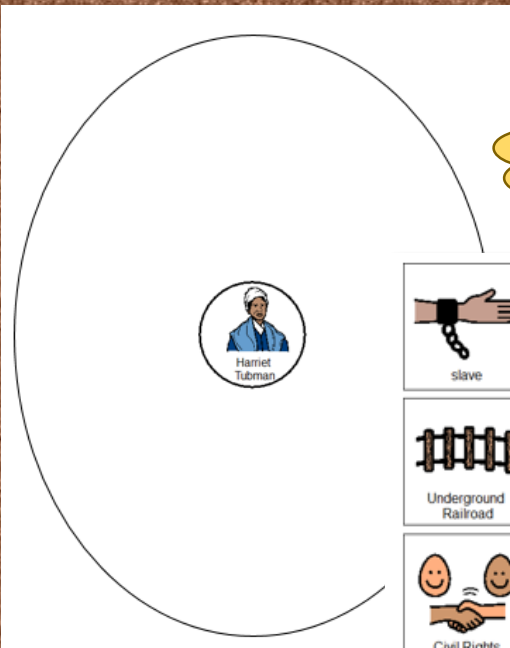

14 page story

Communication board
Also in BW

Harriet Tubman

slave	1 house	injured	fields	escaped
Underground Railroad	help others	hero	nurse	Civil War
Equal Rights	homes	tunnel	hide	I don't understand
do over	I like that	I don't like that	I need a break

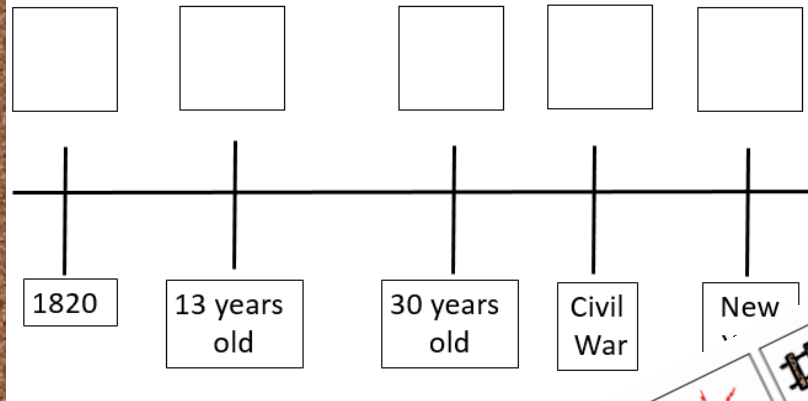

Also in BW

Harriet Tubman

slave	work in the fields	strong	Civil War
Underground Railroad	dizzy	Pennsylvania	Maryland
Civil Rights	rescue	nurse	hero

Harriet Tubman Time Line

Timeline labels:

- born a slave
- injured
- escape on Underground Railroad
- nurse
- Equal Rights

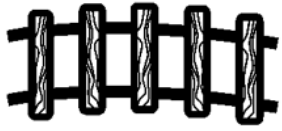

Harriet Tubman

- ❖ Harriet Tubman was a .
- ❖ Harriet Tubman was born a .
- ❖ All of Harriet Tubman's family lived in .
- ❖ When Harriet Tubman was 13 she was .
- ❖ When Harriet Tubman was 30 she .
- ❖ Harriet Tubman helped other slaves escape through the .

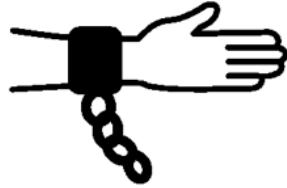

Also in BW

Timeline labels:

- Underground Railroad
- slave
- hurt
- escaped
- hero
- 1 house

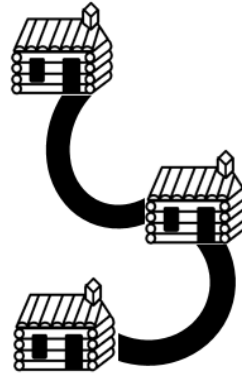

Underground
Railroad

Slavery was a terrible thing.

The Underground
Railroad was not really a railroad.

The Underground
Railroad was a series of homes.

12 page
coloring book

Many slaves tried to escape in order to be free.

One way they escaped was through the
Underground Railroad .

These homes would have secret rooms and tunnels
where slaves could hide.

The slaves would move from home to home until they reached a place they could be free.

Being a Good Citizen

By Christa Joy
Special Needs for Special Kids

Being a good citizen means helping people around you.

I am a Good Citizen

I go to school.
I work hard.
I help my friends.
I help my family.
I take care of the earth.
I volunteer.
I follow the rules.

Power card

14 page social story

All of us need to be good citizens.

Being a good citizen means taking care of your environment.