US Foreign Policy

PREVIEW

A Current Events
Unit

For Middle/ High School

So why does it even matter? Why do we even care about foreign countries?

63-page book

There are 6 main goals of the US foreign policy:

1. Keep the United States safe.
2. Promote world peace.
3. Help keep a balance of power among the stronger countries in the world.
4. Work with other countries to solve world problems.
5. Promote democracy.
6. Support and encourage foreign trade.

Of course the President is only one person. He has other people to help like the Secretary of State.

Ambassadors are people who are US citizens but live in a foreign country and help build even stronger relationships. Because they live right there, it is easy for them to make quick decisions and alert the President if there is a problem.

The United Nations is a very important organization that works hard to keep the world a peaceful and healthy place for everyone.

One of the biggest issues the world faces is that of hunger and poverty. Part of the US foreign policy is to help countries address and solve these issues as well.
