Penguins are excellent swimmers and spend about 75% of their life in the water.

They have powerful flippers and can stay underwater for up to 20 minutes.

Like other birds, penguins lay eggs that take about a month to hatch.

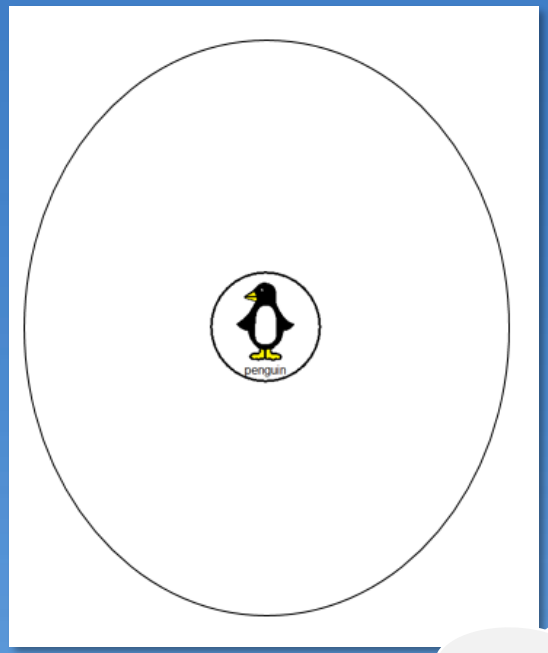
Penguins are birds that live in one of the coldest areas in the world.

Most penguins live in Antarctica.

Most penguins are black and white which helps camouflage or hide them from other animals that may want to eat them.

When on land, penguins are fairly safe.



Penguins live in a very cold climate. Other animals live in a very hot climate, like a desert. Sort the animals according to where they live.
