Special Needs for Special Kids

I created and started using these novel units in my classroom. I had students with significant challenges, and most were non-readers. Creating these novel units was one of the best things I ever did in my classroom, and my students loved them.

This novel unit has 22 activities, one or more for each chapter. The activities are an extension of something that happened in that chapter.

Activities and chapter questions come in a digital format as well.

The DIGITAL activities are designed for students to move the answer pieces directly on the slides.

1. Why is Mr. Arable planning to kill the baby pig?

2. Who saves the baby pig?

3. What does Fern use to feed the baby pig?

Each time you finish a chapter, there will be an activity your students can do.

The activities will relate to events in the chapter.

These are cut-and-paste activities supported by pictures, or you can assign them as click-and-drag Google Slides.

Optional: Quiz students' comprehension by having them answer 3 multiple-choice questions about that chapter.

1. Who showed Wilbur how to escape?

2. How did he get out of his pen?

3. What did Mr. Zuckerman use to get Wilbur back in his pen?

PRINT

DIGITAL

This unit comes with comprehension questions. There are three questions for every chapter. Each question has three picture choices, available in both color and black-and-white.

Answer key included!

1. Where does Fern end up keeping Wilbur for now?

2. When was Wilbur born?

3. How much did Fern get for Wilbur?

Suggestions for Use

- I made this unit to go along with the book, Charlotte's Web by E.B. White
- The thought is that you would be reading it aloud to your class at a rate of about 1 chapter per day.
- Be sure to give each student their own copy of the story board (pg. 8) to use while reading and discussing the story.
- Benefits of reading out loud, even to classes made up of severely affected students:
 - Teaches students to sit quietly even when there isn't something for them to do. This is such an important life skill. We all have to spend time sitting and listening to someone we are not that interested in at some point.
 - Parents will LOVE you. Not only will they be excited their child is being exposed to age appropriate material, but you are teaching them how to sit quietly, which will hopefully transfer to home as well.
 - Even with your lowest level learners, you will have 1 or 2 that will truly enjoy the story.
- It can be a calming experience to sit and listen to the teacher read in a methodical way. For students who need more structure, place the number of post-it notes in front of him/her that corresponds to the number of pages you intend to read. Remove a post-it as you finish each page. The visual will help lessen their anxiety.
- You will find activity for most chapters. You will still have plenty to choose from and find those that fit best with your students.
- Differentiation:
 - For any activity, you can quickly differentiate for your lower level learners by using a color coding technique.
 - If sorting, outline each sorting category a certain color and then outline the corresponding pictures the same color.
 - Becomes a matching task.
- There are comprehension questions to accompany this unit. There are 3 questions for every chapter with 3 picture answer choices. You will find these (in color and BW) in a separate file.

I have provided suggestions on how reading a novel aloud worked best in my classroom. I typically had 6-8 students and one adult assistant in the room with me.

Special Needs for Special Kids

This entire novel unit comes in 2 separate files. One is completely in color and one is completely in black and white.

This unit comes with a vocabulary board.

Vocabulary boards are great for ALL students, helping with participation and engagement in group discussions.

Tips on how to use in the unit!

Story Board : to use with reading and for class discussions. Laminate and make 1 copy for each student.

ERRORLESS VERSION

There are circle maps in this unit.

Circle maps are a great way for students to see the big idea.
